

International Market Driven Engineering (iMDE)

In the course iMDE, which will be given at the Zhejiang University in the fall of 2012, there will be both Chinese and Swedish students participating. During the course mixed groups will be formed where Chinese- and Swedish students will be working together with different projects. The Swedish students have already been divided into groups, and are presented below together with contact- and background information.

A LinkedIn group has also been created in order to get contact in between the students that is taking the course. If there is any problem to connect to the group get in touch with Petter Lindström.
